Personal News.

Special Correspondence of The Evening Star. ALEXANDRIA, Va., June 23, 1904. The contract for the rebuilding of the banking house of Messrs. Burke & Herbert has been awarded to the firm of Richardson & Burgess of Washington. Messrs. Wood, Donn & Deming of Washington, architects, planned the structure, which will be on the site occupied by the present banking house, on the corner of King and Fairfax streets. A very handsome building is contemplated it will front on Fairfax streets, and extend east on King Fairfax streets, and extend east on King out of his room since last November. street, and is to be two stories in height, with an elevation of forty feet, and will be constructed of white brick with a trimming of Indiana stone and a granite base. Temporary quarters have been secured by the bank at 212 King street, a short distance east of their present location.

Police Court Affairs.

In the police court this morning, with Justice May presiding, B. H. Blackweil, who had been arrested on a perce warrant sworn out before Magistrate Kirby of Fairfax county, was turned over to Special Constable Paine of Fairfax. The warrant was sworn out by a woman who lives near Blackwell had made threats against her. alry Band at Iowa Cir Blackwell claims that he is the agent of from 6 to 7:30 o'clock: the Land and River Improvement Company, and that he woman was trespassing on the company's land. Blackwell, when turned over to the Fairfax constable, resisted, creating considerable disturbance in the streets, and was finally arrested by the Alexandria police for disorderly conduct. Edward Briscoe and Raymond Welty, two boys who had escaped from the Georgetown Industrial School, were held until the on authorities could send an officer for them.

Death of Former Resident.

Newton McVeagh, a former resident of this city, died Tuesday at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Tapscott, in Richmond. He was a son of the late James Harvey McVeagh of this city, and had many friends here. At the commencement of the hotels that hold forth the greatest possicivil war Mr. McVeagh was a student at the Virginia Military Institute, and when the cadet corps was ordered out before the battle of New Market he marched with them and took part in that battle. Later he joined the command of Col. John S. Mosby and remained with him until the close of hostilities. His wife and one son Charles S. McVeagh, a student at the University of Virginia, survive him.

False Pretenses Charged.

Mrs. Mary Baker, who conducts an employment agency at 493 Pennsylvania avenue, was arrested this morning by Detectives Hartigan and Baur and taken to police headquarters to answer a charge of false pretenses. The arrest was made on complaint of Mrs. Carrie Carlisle of 493 C street southwest. She alleges that she paid Mrs. Baker a fee because, she claims, she was assured of a position as pantry maid at a hotel of a Mr. Sweeney with a salary of $25 a month. Feeling assured she would get the position, she borrowed $10 and went to the seashore resort. She was disappointed when told by the hotel pro-prietor that he had no situation for her The woman failed to get a position in At-lantic City and was forced to borrow money to pay her fare home. It is alleged that Mrs. Baker sent Mrs. Price to the seashore because she read an advertisement in a New Jersey paper that help was wanted at the particular hotel. Judge Kimball will probably hear the case tomorrow.

Susanna Ross, a colored resident of South Washington, was in the toils at the Police Court this morning on a charge of assaulting Policeman Thomas McGrath of the fourth precinct last night. She admitted the charge and told Judge Kimball that she attacked the officer because he made her mad.

Policeman McGrath told the court the Ross woman had some trouble with her "gentleman friend" and was exercising her authority by beating him, when he appeared on the scene and placed her under arrest. The woman thereupon made him the object of her wrath and displayed her ugly temper by sinking her teeth in three different places on his arm. The court thought the woman ought to be deprived of her liberty for six months unless she pays a fine of $50 imposed on her.

Work of River Surveyors.

The United States coast survey schooner Matchless, which has been lying at anchor off Alexandria for several weeks past, while her officers and crew have been making surveys of the river from this city to Broad creek, near River View, is preparing to drop further down the river, her work in this vicinity having been completed. Yesterday afternoon awnings were taken down and sails uncovered preparatory to moving, and she will, it is expected, leave DEATH OF AGED CLERK

MR. ADOLPH LIMBENKOHL SUC-CUMBS TO DISEASE.

Had Been Attached to Coast and Geodetic Survey for Half a Century.

Mr. Adolph Lindenbbl, the senior drafts man in the coast and geodetic survey, died yesterday after service covering the past fifty years.

Mr. Lindenkohl was the son of George C. F. and A. E. Lindenkohl, and was born at Niederkaufungen, Hesse Cassel, Germany, on March 6, 1833. He was educated at the Realschule and the Polytechnischule, gradvating at the latter institution in 1852. Soon after completing his course he came to the United States and engaged in teaching for two years. In 1854 he became a citizen of his adopted country and was appointed draftsman in the coast survey, and held this position until the day of his death. He spent much of his leisure time in studying the vast physical problems relating to the earth, devoting himself especially to physical geography, oceanography and deep set temperatures, densities and cur-rents. Numerous articles upon these subjects were written by him and have been published as appendices to the coast and geodetic survey reports, in Petermann's Mitterlungen and in the American Journal of Science. He was always much interested geographical exploration and spent a good deal of time in compiling maps from original sources, unofficially.

His ability was rewarded in the coast survey by promotion through all the grades of his profession until he occame a recognized authority on chart publication. Being endowed with a remarkable memory for facts and dates, his intimate acquaintance with the chart work of the survey during the fifty years of his service was of very great value in all matters concerning the compilation of charts from the older records and the numerous drawings compiled and made by him during the last half century are said to bear witness to the skill and fidelity which distinguished his career. Served With Army.

During the civil war, from 1862 to '64, he was detailed to serve with the Union army as topographer. His first service was in aiding Assistant A. M. Harrison in the topographic survey of the northern bank of the Fotomac river in the vicinity of Rosiers' Bluff, in December, 1862, under the direction of the engineer department of the army. In the following summer he was assigned as topographer under the direction of Col. J. H. Alexander, acting chief engineer of the defenses of Baltimore. At the request of the chief engineer of the military department of West Virginia, Lieut. Melgs. Mr. Lindenkohl was detailed in October, 1863, to assist in compiling the data which had been collected at Clarksburg from army surveys and by expeditions of the cavalry forces. Other material, procured from the records of surveys at Annapolis and Baltimore, Maryland, and from the engineer bureau, was made auxiliary to the preparation of a military map of the department. Mr. Lindenkohl also assisted in the construction of a large map of the environs of Cumberland and computed the longitude of a number of places in the state, from sextant observations by Lieut. Meigs. He was employed in West Virginia until the
